

STRADIVARI 52

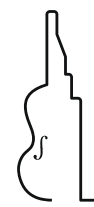

“Sognato a Cremona, prodotto in Italia, destinato al Mondo”

“Dreamed in Cremona, made in Italy, meant for the World”

STRADIVARI 52

“Il desiderio di realizzare il sogno di Davide Capelli ci ha portato fino a qui, così lontano dal punto di partenza eppure così vicino. Quel garage è ancora sotto casa, ancora qui, a Cremona, dove tutto è iniziato più di quarant’anni fa. Questa città dove tutto è nato, la nostra realtà, è ciò che ci rende quello che siamo.”

“The aim to follow Davide Capelli’s dream led us here, so far from the starting point and yet so close. That garage is still under the house, still here, in Cremona, where it all started more than forty years ago. This town, where everything begun, is what makes us what we are.”

Questo progetto nasce dalla sinergia con il Consortio Liutai "Antonio Stradivari", fondato nel 1996 con lo scopo di promuovere e far conoscere la liuteria cremonese contemporanea, che mantiene un'antica tradizione artigiana.

Il Marchio "Cremona Liuteria", messo a punto dal Consorzio in collaborazione con la Camera di Commercio e le Associazioni Artigiane, garantisce che lo strumento certificato è costruito artigianalmente da un maestro liutaio professionista cremonese.

Occorrono duecentoventi ore di lavoro per costruire un violino. Il liutaio parte da un progetto globale di costruzione, quindi ogni strumento costruito è un pezzo unico ed irripetibile finito con le capacità e la creatività del singolo Maestro.

This project arises from the synergy with the Consortium of Violinmakers "Antonio Stradivari", founded in 1996 for the purpose of promoting and making known contemporary Cremonese violinmaking, which upholds an ancient artisan tradition.

The trademark "Cremona Liuteria", identifying the Cremonese instruments, was strongly desired by the Cremona Chamber of Commerce together with the Consortium of Violinmakers "Antonio Stradivari" Cremona, as well as by the various craftsmen associations as an attempt to put a seal of quality on modern stringed instruments made in Cremona that could be recognised throughout the World.
